The mysterious, helmet-wearing figure, The Stig from BBC's Top Gear, is set to make an appearance at Beaulieu Supercar Weekend on 3rd and 4th August and returns to the Demonstration Run to show off some impressive driving skills.

The Demonstration Runs are always a fan favourite for those attending one of the biggest supercar shows on the South Coast as they get to witness some of the most desirable supercars in action as their acceleration, handling and braking are showcased along Beaulieu's Chestnut Avenue. This gripping test of man and machine never fails to gather a crowd, and the sights and sounds offer an unmissable experience. Delighted fans will have the opportunity to take their own photographs as part of a free meet and greet with The Stig over the course of the two-day event.

Supercar enthusiasts will be thrilled to learn that the extraordinary Koenigsegg Agera S 'Green Goblin' will be making an appearance at this year's show. Generating 1,030 BHP and 811 lb-ft of torque, this rare gem, one of only five built, is bound to attract attention from admiring spectators on the lawns of Palace House, which will be home to a Prestige & Hypercar display this year.

Always a favourite with the crowds, the Supercar Sound-off is an opportunity for supercar owners to demonstrate the roar of their car's engine as they compete for the loudest cheer. The Sound-off will also be shown on the big screen, which is sponsored by Apogee.

Car club displays always play a major role in the show, and this year, owners of a wide variety of supercars will drive their prized vehicles into the Beaulieu parkland where they can catch up and admire each other's cars.
